Things To Do This Weekend in Northern Michigan

By Hannah Malinowski on August 15, 2018

Let us plan your weekend. Snag a ticket to these Northern Michigan events and enjoy every moment of those two glorious days.

A Woman of a Certain Age | Friday the 17th

Friday night calls for an evening of food, drinks and of course, a show. Ramsdell Regional Center of the Arts in Manistee welcomes back former Broadway singer Karen Curlee, now a “woman of a certain age.” She’ll share wisdom, mistakes, and lessons learned throughout her career as an artist through her performance. Joining Curlee on stage will be her husband, Mark Stewart, and pianist Carrie Selbee.

Lobster Fest | Saturday the 18th

Experience what a New England Lobster Fest is all about without leaving our own freshwater coast. In efforts to preserve and restore the Grand Traverse Lighthouse in Northport, the Grand Traverse Lighthouse Museum will be hosting its Annual Lobster Fest fundraiser. Dinner includes fresh lobster, boiled redskin potatoes, corn on the cob, slaw, cherry dessert, and a wide variety of drink options. Live entertainment will be provided and a silent auction will also be taking place. Bring your appetite and get ready for a good time for a good cause.
